

Volunteer

From facilitating activities to providing one on one care and companionship, Volunteers are an important part of our holistic care community.

Ananda Aged Care's compassionate and caring staff are supported by many wonderful Volunteers who selflessly give their time to enhance the well-being of residents in our care.

From facilitating activities to providing one on one care and companionship, Volunteers are an important part of our holistic care community.

Our Volunteers range in age from University students through to retirees. Some of our generous and warm Volunteers are relatives of those that are in our care, but many are community citizens committed to "giving something back".
